★ Module 1 Stories

Unit 1 Slow and steady wins the race

Let's talk

Janet: Jiamin, are you OK?

Jiamin: I tried to carry all the books. I didn't want to go back to the classroom again.

Xiaoling: Why are you in such a hurry? You are like that silly hare.

Jiamin: Hare? What do you mean?

Xiaoling: You know...the old story about the tortoise and the hare.

Janet: Yes. One day a tortoise and a hare had a race. The hare was sure he would win so he took a rest. He was too proud and careless. The slow but careful tortoise won the race.

Don't be sad.
Work harder.

Jiamin: Ahh. I understand now. If I want to do something well, I should be careful and patient.

Janet: That's right. Remember, Slow and steady wins the race.

Don't be in such a hurry.
Be careful.

Don't cut too fast.
Be patient.

Don't be proud.
Work harder.

Language focus

1 Read the story.

Kitty, the little cat, likes eating fish. She often goes fishing. Yesterday morning she caught a lot of fish.

The old bear loves eating fish, too. He came over and talked with Kitty, "Your friends are playing in my garden. They are having fun. And they are going to have a picnic on my farm. Go and play with them. I will look after your fish and help you catch more fish here."

Kitty was happy. She left for the garden and looked for her friends. But when Kitty left, the old bear ate all the fish up.

2 Compare these sentences. Pay attention to the verb form.

(1) Kitty, the little cat, likes eating fish.

She often goes fishing.

The old bear loves eating fish, too.

(2) Your friends are playing in my garden.

He came and talked with Kitty.

Kitty was happy.

She left for the garden and looked for her friends.

But when Kitty left, the old bear ate all the fish up.

Unit 2 Waiting for another hare

Let's read

One day, a farmer was working in the field. Suddenly a hare ran very fast and crashed into a tree. It fell to the ground and died. The farmer was happy. He picked up the hare and took it back home. He cooked it and had a delicious meal.

"Working in the field every day is hard work. But picking up a hare is so easy," he said to himself. From then on, the farmer stopped working. All day long, he sat in the field and waited for a hare to appear. All his vegetables died. All his animals ran away. But another hare never came, so the farmer had nothing to eat.

Don't be like the farmer. Don't wait for another hare. Go for it!

Answer the questions.

- (1) Where was the farmer when he saw the hare?
- (2) How did the hare die?
- (3) What did the farmer do with the hare?
- (4) Why did the farmer sit in the field all day?
- (5) What happened to the farmer's vegetables and animals?

LET'S DISCUSS.

3 Long ago, a boy was watching his sheep in the field.

4 Aki. You mustn't tell lies. Don't you know the story of The Boy Who Cried Wolf?

5 He felt bored so he cried out "wolf". The villagers thought a wolf was eating their animals and they hurried to help. The boy found this very funny so he did it many times.

6 So you see, Aki. You must always tell the truth.

7 Then one day, a wolf really came. The boy cried out for help but this time no one came. The people didn't believe the boy any more and the wolf ate all the sheep.

★ Module 2 Animals

Unit 3 What animal is it?

Let's talk

Jiamin: Let's play a game. Can you guess this animal's name? It has two strong back legs and can jump very far.

Janet: Hmm... that's difficult. A frog?

Jiamin: No. It usually has brown or grey hair and it's from Australia.

Xiaoling: That's easy. It's a kangaroo. My turn. This animal looks like a star and it lives in the ocean. What is it?

Ben: Is it a starfish?

Xiaoling: Yes, it is. You try, Janet.

1 Read the story.

Billy was a little bird. He lived in the forest. In the forest, there were many birds, too. But Billy didn't work or play with them.

"Winter is coming. But I don't have a warm house. I must build a new one. I am not going to build a small one. I'm going to build a big and warm one," he said to himself. "But will the other birds help me? I don't think they will, because they don't like me. And they are playing games happily over there." Feeling sad, Billy started to build his new home alone.

Suddenly, a lot of birds came up to him. "We have all come to help you, Billy," they said. Billy was surprised and said, "I didn't tell you I would build a house. How did you know?"

"We were not playing. We were working, too. We saw that you were busy. We think that we can do something for you," said one of the birds. Billy was moved. "Thank you," Billy said.

From then on, Billy didn't work or play alone. He had many friends. And he often helped them, too.

Unit 4 We can save the animals

Let's read

We only have one earth!

Would you like to live in a world with no pandas, tigers or whales? These and many other animals are in danger. If we don't do something now, they may all disappear forever!

One problem is that their homes are disappearing. People cut down the forests and pollute the oceans, so these animals have no place to live in. Also, many people buy things made from these animals, like medicines, fur coats and even foods.

If you love the earth and love the animals, please do something about it. Never buy things made from animals in danger. Plant trees and don't pollute. If we all work together we can still save the animals.

Answer the questions.

- (1) What may soon happen to many animals in danger?
- (2) Why are many animals' homes disappearing?
- (3) What things are often made from animals in danger?
- (4) What can people do to help these animals?
- (5) Do you know any other animals in danger?

LET'S DISCUSS.

Unit 6 Early years of Deng Jiaxian

Let's read

The great scientist Deng Jiaxian (1924 —1986) is often called the father of Chinese atomic science. During his life he helped China to become a stronger and safer country.

Deng was born in Anhui Province on June 25, 1924. As a child he loved to study and wanted to be a teacher like his father, a famous professor. But his dad wanted Deng to study science to help China become a modern country. Because he loved his father and his country, Deng studied hard and went to university.

After finishing his university study in 1945, he taught physics at several middle schools and later at Beijing University. In 1948 Deng went to the United States to study for a doctor's degree in physics. This study usually takes four or more years. But the clever young man worked hard and did it in only two years. He was the youngest person in his class, so they called him the "Baby Doctor".

Answer the questions.

- (1) What is Deng Jiaxian often called?
- (2) Where was Deng born?
- (3) Why did Deng's father want him to be a scientist?
- (4) What did Deng do after finishing university?
- (5) How long did Deng study in America?

J.K. Rowling

Joanne Kathleen Rowling was born in Bristol, England, in 1965. She dreamed of being a famous writer when she was a little girl.

Before she wrote Harry Potter, she was very poor. She had no job, and a young daughter to take care of. She decided to write the Harry Potter story to make some money. Every day, she sat at a coffee shop writing until the first book was finished. But no one wanted to put out her book. They said girls couldn't write about magic. Then Rowling changed her name from Joanne Kathleen to J.K., so people wouldn't know she was a woman.

At last, in 1997, someone agreed to put out the first book and it was a huge success. She then wrote six more Harry Potter books. In just a few years, J.K. Rowling went from a poor young woman to the most-loved and richest writer in the world.

Answer the questions.

- (1) Where and when was J.K. Rowling born?
- (2) What was her dream when she was a little girl?
- (3) Why did she decide to write the Harry Potter story?
- (4) Where did she write the first Harry Potter book?

Manners around the world

People from different places greet each other in different ways. In America, people will greet each other with a handshake. But in Japan, instead of a handshake, a person will bow from the waist. The younger you are, the lower you bow. In European countries like Italy, Greece, and Russia, people often greet each other with a kiss.

In some countries like Egypt and Iran, people like to stand close to each other when they talk. In other countries, such as China and Korea, people stand far apart when they talk. They feel unhappy if you stand too near.

And when you eat dinner at someone's home in India, it's rude to eat with your left hand. If you don't use your right hand, people will think you hate the food.

The world is an interesting place but learning the manners of different countries takes time.

Read the rhyme.

I want to be good

Sometimes I am good.

Sometimes I am bad.

Sometimes my parents are glad.

Sometimes my parents are sad.

When I am good, my parents are glad.

When I am bad, my parents are sad.

I want them to be glad.

I don't want them to be sad.

So I will always be good.

I will never, never be bad.

1 Read the passage.

Manners can be quite different in different countries. When you go to a foreign country, you should learn something about its manners first.

In China when people meet, they often ask each other "Where are you going?" or "Have you had your meal?" But in England, people talk about the weather. English people do not ask others about age, salary or the price of their home. When your mouth is full of food, don't talk with others. In Thailand, you can't touch a child's head.

Good manners make things easier. They can help people to get on well with each other. When you are nice to people, they will be nice to you, too.

2 Read the questions and choose the answers. Then compare the sentences.

B. No, they won't . |

Unit 8 The magic words

Let's read

Long ago, a little boy was walking through a park. In the middle of the park there was a tree with a sign on it. The sign said, "I am a magic tree. Say the magic words and you will see."

The boy tried to guess the magic words. He tried "open" "hurry", and many more, but none of them worked.

Tired and upset, the boy cried out, "This is too difficult. Please, dear tree!" Suddenly, a big door opened at the bottom of the tree. Inside everything was dark, except for a sign. The sign said, "Carry on with your magic." Then the boy said, "Thank you, dear tree!" With this, the inside of the tree lit up brightly and showed a road. The road led to a room full of toys and chocolates.

The little boy brought all his friends to the magic tree, and they had the best party ever. This is why people always say that "please" and "thank you" are the magic words.

Answer the questions.

- (1) What did the boy see in the park?
- (2) Why was the boy upset?
- (3) How did the boy open the tree?
- (4) What was inside the magic tree?
- (5) What are the magic words?

LET'S DISCUSS.

Ted is a bear with good manners. He is kind and helpful. When he sees others in trouble, he always tries his best to help them.

Ted always wears clean clothes when he goes out. When he meets his friends, he always says hello to them. He shows respect to others.

Ted often says, "Can I help you, please?" When he sees the old sheep carrying heavy bags, he often says, "Can I help you? Can I carry the bags for you?" When he meets the baby duck at the door, he will say, "Can I help you? Can I open the door for you?" When the little chicken can't find her way home, he says, "Can I help you? Can I take you home?"

Answer the questions.

- (1) Why is Ted kind and helpful?
- (2) What are Ted's good manners?
- (3) Why is everyone nice to Ted?
- (4) Do you like Ted? Why?

I'm thirsty. What do you have to drink?

Ahh...just help yourself.

3

Come on, Aki. You sit at the table. I'll help my mum with the food.

Never mind. I like potatoes. So I'll just have these.

4

Fish? Yuck! I don't like fish. I want some chicken.

Oh...well... I'll see if we have any.

Now what's on TV? This is boring.

Aki...I was watching that.

Emma and George live in Sydney. They go to school in the city. There is a new student in their class. His name is Daniel. Daniel used to live in the countryside.

"When did you come to Sydney?" asks Emma.

"I came to Sydney last month," answers Daniel. "It's very different from my old home!"

"Tell us about your old home," says George.

"It was in the country," says Daniel. "We lived in a big house on a farm. Our farm had many sheep and cows. I had two dogs, too. We worked very hard every day. But there was not much rain. We didn't have water for the animals so we moved to the city."

"Don't worry, Daniel, you'll like living in Sydney," say Emma and George.

Answer the questions.

- (1) When did Daniel move to Sydney?
- (2) Where was Daniel's home before?
- (3) What pets did Daniel have on the farm?
- (4) Why did Daniel's family leave the farm?

Mr Brown likes travelling. He often travels with his friends when he has time. Now they are looking at the photos they took in Hawaii last month.

They stayed there for a week. When they were at the beautiful beach, they swam in the sea, sunbathed, went boating and watched the pretty dances. All of them had a good time. They liked the island very much. They are going to travel there again next time. "We will stay there for longer and take more photos," they say.

Answer the questions. Pay attention to the blue words and compare them.

- (1) Who does Mr Brown travel with?
- (2) What are they doing?
- (3) Where did they travel last month?
- (4) How long did they stay there?
- (5) What did they do in Hawaii?
- (6) How did they like the island?
- (7) What will Mr Brown do next time when he visits Hawaii?

Hi, John,

Thanks so much for inviting me to visit you in Canada. I can't wait to see you. I'm very excited to stay with your family. I can speak English every day and learn more about your country. And I can save money, too. Don't worry, I will buy you a present with that money. 😊

I know Canada is famous for its natural beauty, so I really want to see the beautiful lakes and waterfalls. And I plan to visit Chinatown in Toronto, too.

I finally got my passport last week and I booked my plane ticket today. I will arrive at the airport next month, on June 12th. The plane lands at 1:00 p.m. I'm so excited!

See you then,

Li Hua

Answer the questions.

Dear Jiamin,

How are you? Italy is great. I'm living in Milan. It's in the north of Italy. Milan is famous for its fashion (clothes, hair, etc.). Everyone here is so beautiful.

The food here is wonderful, too. I tried pasta, pizza, and gelato. Gelato is Italian ice cream. My Italian friend told me it is quite healthy. But it is very delicious so I don't believe him! We eat a lot of fresh bread here and people always drink red wine with dinner. It is easy to travel from Milan to France, Switzerland and Austria. I will try to travel to some of these countries when it is holiday time!

Bye,
From Janet

Answer the questions.

- (1) In which part of Italy is Milan?
- (2) What is Milan famous for?
